1. System Monthly Results July 2022 – March 2023 +20.60% (+£2,903) overall this month and +30.76% in total in 9 months (£13,000 nominal bank now £16,998)

Last month things returned to winning ways. I reversed my December changes and saw good results coming back. I also added in 4 mixed sets of strategies, each with their own 1,000 bank using Whitaker staking and they had fantastic results, the best being +97% in one month.

So what went right?

For my existing bot strategies, I went back to the “stingy bookmaker” method. I sked for the opposite price (the current lay bet price for back bets) and I let the bet lapse if the stake did not get matched at that price. Because I am using automated betting, I want to get the best price possible. I am not sitting in front of the PC for each market. I cannot judge if the market is mature and I can take the current odds, or if the market still has some gaps in the prices where I can reasonably ask for higher odds. So I just get the bot to ask for the higher odds every time. Getting higher odds each time will make a big difference to profits in the long run. The idea is that betting on a good price is more important than getting the bet backed at any price. Also, I skip bets entirely if they are under the Betaminic recommended minimum odds.

So, for me, my main betting system works more efficiently for me when I am trying to get higher prices on every bet, and I don't mind missing picks if the price is not matched. This works for me, so I am sticking with that.

But I still get emails from people asking justified questions:

1. Can I run several strategies on one mixed bank with Whitaker Staking? (I don't want to have separate banks for each strategy!)
2. Is 20 GBP level stakes enough? (Percentage staking has worse ROI, so I want to use Level Stakes.)
3. Can I bet on all picks, even if under the recommended odds? (I don't want to waste my picks that I paid for.)
4. How do I choose strategies myself? (Are any of the top rated strategies okay? I don't know the strategies inside out like you.)
5. Can I just choose some strategies and bet on all the picks I get? (Your extra bets are too complicated.)

I also want to show that you can do things simply and bet on multiple strategies with one mixed bank. You can do it with Whitaker Staking or Level Stakes. You can bet on all picks regardless of minimum recommended odds. You can just pick strategies that look good to you. So I created 4 mixed sets. I went through the strategies in the Betamin Builder public area. I sorted by Since shared yields and then included home, draw, away, over/under strategies that had low drawdowns under 30 or less, but do have enough bets in their data set to support their Since Shared results. In effect, I wanted to see if you could pick a set of strategies to cover different markets by a light viewing of the Betamin Builder, without any advanced analysis or staking analysis. Just pick a set of a few strategies and follow them with Whitaker Staking and Level Stakes to balance out the ROI problem.

These 4 sets did much better than I expected. It shows how good Whitaker Staking is when results are positive. It will be interesting how they perform in the next month.

So you can follow a Stingy Bookmaker method or you can follow a simpler Mixed Set with a Single Bank method. You can get ideas from the style that suits you better.

I would say my biggest problem remains that I like to fiddle. I can't leave my betting systems alone. Especially when they have a losing or flat period. So I will try to leave them alone for the next month and let them carry on as they are.

I think it is important that I point out that I have nominal bank of £13,000 now. I have several separate strategies being run with 13 separate betting banks for staking calculation purposes. But I only have between £2,000-4,000 of actual cash in my Betfair bank balance. This is very aggressive and a few strategies experiencing negative variance at the same time could bring my actual working capital to zero. But my risk level is aggressive and I am trying to push ahead as fast as possible. Also, for automated bettors, the new 4 mixed sets are being run on a separate PC, not my VPS. So you could not just import all of my bots into one instance of the BFBM and run it on there. You would have to pick a mixed set (each has their own £1,000 nominal bank,) or the stingy bookmaker set (now 9 x £1,000 nominal banks).

3. Current Betting System Setup Summary

I currently follow 9 Betaminic strategies through the Betamin Builder tool.. I list them here in order of my estimated aggressive levels stakes target profit for 1 year. You can follow the first one, or all of them. It is up to you. I also follow 22 strategies in 4 mixed sets as part of an experiment to see if a simpler pick and mix approach to Betaminic will also work.

database. This makes me confident that it has found a winning trend that works across many markets. The 54% win rate makes it an easy strategy to follow.

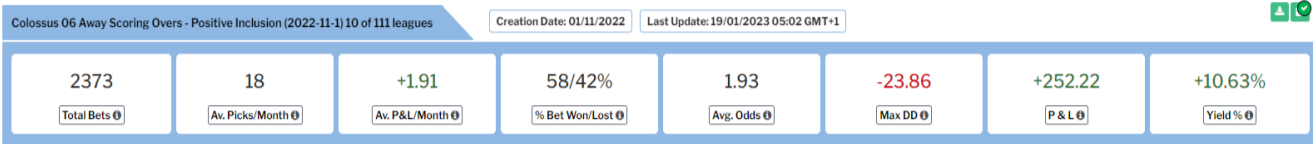

My Recommended Bets and Staking

- 1) 5% percentage bet on the main over 2.5 goals FT pick.
 - 2) 0.25-2% Whitaker3 Staking bet on the over 0.5 goals FT market.
 - 3) 0.25-2% Whitaker3 Staking bet on the over 1.5 goals FT market IF the match is 0-0 at HT.
- (Based on Whitaker LC3 Staking Settings)

Profit Target

These strategies are long term trends and need to be followed for a period of 1,000 bets to allow the trend chance to get through positive and negative variance and have a chance to show its historical trend if it repeats. See the Level Stakes Excel file for profit target examples based on risk levels.

#	Strategy Name	Link	Type
2	Colossus 06 Away Scoring Overs - Positive Inclusion (2022-11-1) 10 of 111 leagues	LINK	Over 2.5 goals strategy

This strategy is based on a core idea that I researched myself 4 years ago in my first book "Winning Betting Strategies" as the Colossus 06 Away Scoring Overs and has been making profit long term. It has a higher maximum drawdown than the first strategy but I feel that this has also found a long term profitable trend in the markets.

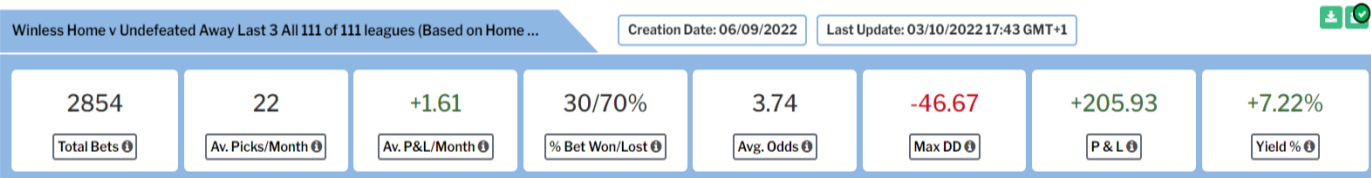

My Bets and Staking

- 1) 3-5% Whitaker LC3 Staking target profit bet on the main over 2.5 goals FT pick.
 - 2) 0.25-2% Whitaker3 Staking bet on the over 0.5 goals HT market.
 - 4) 0.25-2% Whitaker3 Staking bet on the over 0.5 goals FT market IF the match is 0-0 at HT.
- (Based on Whitaker LC3 Staking Settings)

Profit Target

These strategies are long term trends and need to be followed for a period of 1,000 bets to allow the trend chance to get through positive and negative variance and have a chance to show its historical trend if it repeats. See the Level Stakes Excel file for profit target examples based on risk levels.

#	Strategy Name	Link	Type
3	Winless Home v Undefeated Away Last 3 All 111 of 111 leagues (Based on Home King by AugustinVidic)	LINK	Home win strategy

This is my edited version of another public strategy that has done well. It works across all 111 leagues in the database and that gives me confidence that it has found a real trend in the statistics. It backs underdogs with poor recent form at home. Its average odds are higher at 3.75 and its maximum drawdown is also higher at -46.67. The win rate is also a low 30%, so you need willpower and discipline to follow it, but I really like the logic behind this strategy and the fact that it gets 7% yield across all leagues.

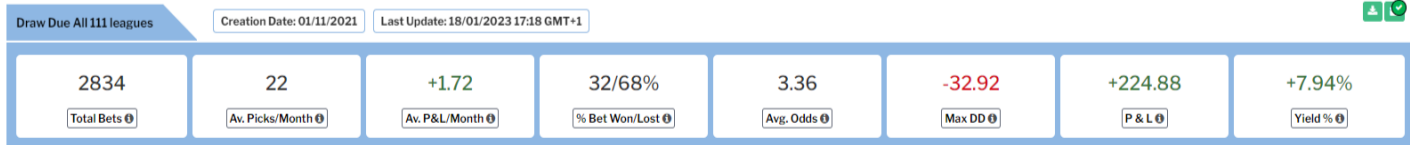

My Bets and Staking

- 1) 0.25-2% Whitaker3 Staking bet on the main home win pick.
- (Based on Whitaker DP / Whitaker LC3 Staking Settings)

Profit Target

These strategies are long term trends and need to be followed for a period of 1,000 bets to allow the trend chance to get through positive and negative variance and have a chance to show its historical trend if it repeats. See the Level Stakes Excel file for profit target examples based on risk levels.

#	Strategy Name	Link	Type
4	Draw Due All 111 leagues	LINK	Draw strategy

This draw strategy is an updated version of a strategy from my first book "Winning Betting Strategies" that has also made profit long term, and its updated version works across all 111 leagues in the database. This is again part of my preference for strategies that work across all leagues. I feel that there is less chance of data mining if a strategy works across all leagues.

My Bets and Staking

- 1) 0.25-2% Whitaker3 Staking bet on the main draw pick.
- (Based on Whitaker DP / Whitaker LC3 Staking Settings)

Profit Target

These strategies are long term trends and need to be followed for a period of 1,000 bets to allow the trend chance to get through positive and negative variance and have a chance to show its historical trend if it repeats. See the Level Stakes Excel file for profit target examples based on risk levels.

The settings are very simple for this one, just looking at home wins, with the home odds restricted to 1.00-2.00 and the home team average goals set to 0.00-1.00. The idea is to find teams that have poor goal scoring records and hope they slip up at home. It uses all the leagues, so there are no leagues to cut out.

It gives an average of 65 picks per month, which costs about €45 depending on what pick pack you buy from Betaminic.

The 2 add-on bets just offer the same lay bet at -2 and -4 ticks worse odds each time. Basically trying to get even more value out of the pick by offering the bet at even worse odds to the punter.

Since this is a lay bet strategy, you need to be able to access a betting exchange like Betfair, OrbitX, Betdaq or Smarkets.

4. .gz – Bf Bot Manager bot file

This month I am attaching my current bot set, which is my exact bot set that I am using now that also includes my experimental bots. You can view the bot settings I use and edit it to use it as you wish, or leave it as it is and just switch on the bots you want. Be sure to reset bots before you start. I exported them un-reset so that you can see their current results to help you make choices easier. I have added trackers to each individual strategy. Each bot set starts with a 1,000 bank. 9 banks together means a nominal bank of 9,000, but I only keep around 2,000 of working capital in my Betfair account to run it. If it gets under 500, I top it up with another 1,000 for a while until it gets back to its previous levels. These bots are set with aggressive staking plans. I provide them as an example of what can be done with the strategies and bots working together. But please only use bots that you understand. Please note that my bots skip many bets. They skip bets that are under the minimum recommended odds. They also let bets lapse if the requested prices are not matched. Unmatched bets will be cancelled at in-play. I share these bots as an example to help you get started, but it is important to learn how to use the software yourself. If you are not sure about the staking plans and extra bots, then just use level stakes that match your risk level. That is the simplest way to automate your betting. I also attach the new mixed bot sets and also a set of 4 level stakes strategies for first timers.

Best of luck!

Tom
