Overview
The BSG Draw system is based on tips generated by a core strategy, and then 4 other extra bets are placed on those tips. It was developed entirely with the Bf Bot Manager automated betting software and gets its trigger data from Betfair markets.

It was in testing and development for 8 months since November 2022. It was released to the public in July 2023 via TippingSports.com. The core strategy has had over 9,000 real bets placed during that time, so I am very confident with this system.

This is a bumpy system with high volatility. Here are some screenshots for my £10 stakes set.

On October 5th the set was in a short-term losing streak.
My drawdown tracker (T6) tells me that it currently has a win rate of 27% from the last 86 bets. The bot set is now down from the September total of +2,400 to +1,840. From my experience with the 7,000+ bets of the original bot set, I know that this will eventually return to the 33% win rate and the bot set profit will move forward as a whole.

My recommended bot set
The bot set I will send you is this one "Set 045". It is setup for a £300 starting bank with £1 stakes.
Pleas adjust it to your starting bank level which is stake x 300.

How does the bot set work?
Bot B1 receives a tip from the TippingSports account "bsgDrawSystem" and places a draw bet at the opposite price. This means it will have many bets unmatched and lapsed, but it will have a higher ROI. (The opposite price means the odds currently show as the pink lay price, not the blue back price.)
Bot B2 places a draw bet on the same selection B1 did but at the current back price available. It has a lower ROI of around 3% but has a higher volume of bets. This is the core trend that we are following.
Bot B3 places an extra draw bet on the same selection B1 did but in-play at the current odds if a goal is scored. This will have fewer bets but a higher ROI.
Bot B4 places an extra draw bet on the same selection B1 did but in-play at the opposite odds if a goal is scored. This will have fewer bets but a higher ROI.
Bot B5 places an extra draw bet on the same selection B1 did but in-play at the opposite odds +4 ticks if a goal is scored. This will have much fewer bets but a higher ROI.
Bot B6 places a pre-match bet on the 0-0 Correct Score selection for the match.
Bot T7 places a pre-match bet on the draw. It is a resettable bot that is meant to be used for tracking the short term core trend win rate.

Long term win rate 33%
The long-term win rate of the core strategy is 33%. I use a tracker bot to tell me the win rate either of the current month or current losing run or just since I last checked my bot. This gives me an idea of if the bot set results are based on a good run or a bad run. If the bot set is making a loss but the win rate is 15%, then I know it is just a statistically unlucky run without draws and I don't panic, and I know that win rate will eventually come back up to 33%. I have seen it happen time and time again with the +7,000 worth of historical data. Based on this, when the short-term win rate is under 20%, I sometimes increase stakes knowing that the draw bets are due to bring the win rate back up to 33%. My stop loss on this system is if the bots are making a loss and the win rate is at 33%. This would mean that the value has gone from this selection method.

Betting System Target
The ultimate aim of this betting system is to produce regular profit and be regarded as a reliable investment producing regular dividends.

Staking Plan Notes
Level Staking Recommended
Staking for this bot: Risk 1 points total on each tip of a 300-point bank, that is a total of 6 points risked on each match for the 6 bots.
With the above staking, losing -50 points in a day can be expected as normal.
-100 points drawdown is expected as part of any normal monthly negative run.
-220 points is the maximum negative drawdown experienced so far (January 2023), but it recovered from that.
So be mentally prepared that the nominal bank will go down to near -100 points in any given month. At very worst, it might go down to -220 points, but on level stakes it has always come back in all of its negative runs since November 2022. This is based on 9,000 bets worth of data from the Bet 2 bot.
1,000 starting bank = 3 GBP stakes
3,000 starting bank = 10 GBP stakes
There are 6 betting bots and a tracker bot in this set, so 6 points at most is risked per selection.

DRAWDOWN TRACKER BOT T7
Use this bot to track the drawdown and know how far into a negative run you are.
When the bot is in profit and has a win rate of 33% or more, make a note of the data as the below example, then reset it.

EXAMPLE OF DRAWDOWN NOTES
Dates and data when Drawdown Tracker reset
2023-9-21 1230 started
2023-9-21 2200 +8.57 8/17 47%
2023-10-5 1600 +18.52 200/600 33% (This means it had a losing run lasting 600 bets but recovered and achieved a 3% ROI after hitting the 33% win rate)

WHEN TO INCREASE STAKES
If you are looking for a good moment to increase stakes, then wait for this tracker bot to show a win rate of 20% or less. This is a good time to increase stakes since more draws than usual are due to push the win average back up to the long-term trend of 33%.

STOP-LOSS / EXIT POINT
If this bot shows a win rate of 33% but it is not in profit or the ROI has dropped to under 2% it is a sign that the betting system is losing its edge for some reason. This is our stop loss and exit point for the system.

Conclusion
The numbers look good for the football draw system. It has 9,000+ bets of data to support the core trend.
BUT it has long losing runs and it is a bumpy system. There are winning and losing months along the way. You need to understand value betting and have strong willpower to continue with the betting plan even in the losing runs. It works long term, but you must stay with the plan and not give up. It is not for weak minds. It is for people who believe in the data. 9,000+ bets of data over 16 months is strong support for this.

BOT TROUBLESHOOTING

If the bot is not placing bets:

1. Check if tips are being received in your Manage Tips form.
If there are tips, then the problem is with the BFBM setup. Check your bots, check you market autoloading, check your tip import settings.
If there are no tips, then the problem is that your TippingSports account is not properly connected to the BFBM software.
